

INTRODUCTION

The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) defines Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) in terms of entire counties, except in the six New England States where they are defined in terms of cities and towns. If an area has more than 1 million population and meets certain other requirements specified in the Metropolitan Area standards published in the Federal Register (55 FR 12154-12160, March 30, 1990), it is termed a Consolidated Metropolitan Statistical Area (CMSA), consisting of two or more major components recognized as Primary Metropolitan Statistical Areas (PMSAs). The set of areas known as MSAs, PMSAs, and CMSAs are collectively designated Metropolitan Areas (MAs).

Effective June 30, 1993, there are 253 MSAs, 76 PMSAs, and 19 CMSAs including 3 MSAs, 3 PMSAs, and 1 CMSA in Puerto Rico. Attached are four lists containing the definitions of these areas based on the MA standards published in the Federal Register on March 30, 1990, and 1990 Decennial Census data. List I is a comprehensive alphabetical listing of all MSAs, PMSAs, and CMSAs. It presents the definitions and central cities for each MSA, and identifies each PMSA and CMSA by title only (referring the user to List II for their definitions). List II provides definitions of each CMSA and its component PMSAs. Both List I and List II present central cities in the order in which they appear in the area title and then in order of their 1990 population. List III identifies the MSAs, PMSAs, and CMSAs by State, with cross references to the list on which to find the area's definition and central cities. Parentheses around MA titles in List III indicate that an area has become part of another or has a new title. List IV specifies the definitions of New England County Metropolitan Areas (NECMAs). There are 12 NECMAs. Note that the changes in status indicated in Lists I, II, and IV with "new," "added," "deleted," or "transferred" are relative to definitions and central cities in existence just prior to the December 1992 MA announcement. Any MSA restored or having a change in boundaries as of the June 1993 announcement is shown in List I with an asterisk to the left of the title; the same notation applies in List II for any PMSA created, restored, or having a change in boundaries. In addition, MA central cities and counties deleted in December 1992 but restored in the June 1993 announcement, as well as those counties newly added in June 1993, are marked with an asterisk preceding the city and county names in Lists I, II, and IV.

The first column of each list contains Federal Information Processing Standards (FIPS) codes issued by the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST) in the Department of Commerce to standardize the coding of electronic data processing information. NIST has assigned a unique four digit code for each MSA, PMSA, and NECMA and a unique two digit code for each CMSA.
